fectual attemps to organize. The country has to pay for this family quarrel of the Fusionists at the rate of at least five thousand dollars. A glorious reform party, isn't it? Very much opposed to extravagance and wasting of the public fund! How deeply they sympathize with the oppressed tax payer! The people will remember that the Fusionis's have about two-thirds of all the members of the present Congress, and that the Democrats are in no wire responsible for this delay .- Democrat.

In the first session of the 31st Congress, 1849, that body assembled on the the 3d day of December, and time, until 23d of that month was consumed in the vain attempt to elect a Speaker, but finally Howel Cobb, the Democratic candidate, was elected. What party had the majority then? Who were responsible? The memory of the Democrat is either remarkably short, or else the Democratic party were guilty of squandering valuable time, most awfully,

But aside from these antecedents, the charge that the Republicans are alone responsible for the delay, in the organisation of the House of Congress, is simply rediculous. It is the pro-slavery lead ers of the Democratic party that have brought this crisis upon us. They have had the sole control of all departments of the general government, for the last three years, and of the House, (with a partial exception of two years) for the last twelve years. They have steered the ship of State among breakers, from people have resolved to commit the helm to abler hands.

If the Democratic party are so anxious Russian Singing Match. Out and Home to put an end to the strife, it is only ne Again. cessary for eight of their members to vote for Mr. Banks, and the thing is done .-One hundred and thirteen votes only are necessary for a choice. Mr. Banks receives one hundred and six. Mr. Richardson, the Democratic candidate, 75, and Fuller, 40. Mr. Richardson has received his highest figure, and why then, (to use the very clear logic of the Democrat,) does its party waste the time in ineffectual attempts to organize. It certainly does not expect the majority to succumb to the minority. We hope the supporters of Mr. Banks will not yield an inch, if no organization takes place till dooms day.

Now and Then.

The question of popular sovereignty, as applied to Kansas and Nebraska, will be the leading issue in the approaching Presidential campaign. - Democrat.

senses. Better late than never.

But, now the question is narrowed down to the single point of freedom or slavery, in all the vast territory belonging to the United States; and upon that single question, as the Democratic party admits, will turn the issue of the next Presidential election. Nor is this all, ujon the next Presidential election depends the question of freedom or slavery in the territories. The two questions stand together. They cannot be separated. The Democratic party has gone over, rank and file, body and scul, to the slave interest. The Republican party stand directly opposite to the advance of slavery. It now only remais for the free voters of the United States to choose, whether the states, which in the near future will be formed out of that territory, shall come into the confederacy, as free states, and fit homes for free men; or whether the withering curse of slavery, shall rest upon them, virtually prohibiting their settlements by free laboring men; and whether more weight shall be added to the incumbus of slave power which paralyses the energies of the whole country, gives the lie to our charter of equal rights, and disgraces the name of the United States
